DELAY DE GAULLE DECISION

Interstate Link On 7th Favored

Consultant's Proposed Route Into City Center Disclosed

By Virgil Falloon

Lincoln's "interstate spur" to the Interstate Highway has been recommended for 7th street, passing under the Harris Overpass and with interchange at P and Q and surface leads to K, L, M and N.

Eldridge Lovelace of Harland Bartholomew and Associates made this recommendation from 4 basic plans presented Wednesday to the City Planning Commission meeting in "executive session."

The Star reliably learned Lovelace's basic recommendation and contents of the Bartholomew report, after being told by Chairman E. J. Faulkner that newsmen could attend only on an "off-the-record" basis.

Later, Faulkner issued this statement on the meeting for publication:

"The matter is being studied by competent people and agreement is expected among the minds for the plan to be presented to state and federal officials in about 4 weeks."

In connection with the 7th street route, Lovelace also recommended that "provisions be made for a braided interchange" between Oak street and Oak Lake for an additional route sweeping the University of Nebraska campus on the east.

This route, running south-easterly from Oak street and swinging as far east as the Rock Island tracks, would have legs terminating at 16th and Q and 17th and P.

Final determination of the one-way pair has not been made, but the report recommends Q and P as presenting the "least interference to the University" as compared with Q and R.

$5.1 Million Cost

The 7th street route is estimated at $5.1 million, of which $524,000 would be right-of-way costs and $3.5 million for structures. It would have 2.27 miles of expressway from the Adams interchange.

The eastern route, whose ultimate development is urged in the Bartholomew report, would cost $7.2 million of which $1.1 would be right-of-way and about $4 million for structures.

A combination of the 2 routes was estimated at $10.5 million.

The eastern route and another plan to join with 9th and 10th at about Q and P carried an $8.7 million tag.

Who'll Pay?

The report makes no suggestions as to what public agency might pay for what part of the solution to the problem. "The agencies involved should first come to agreement as to the best possible solution and then, secondly, determine upon a progressive, collaborative program of financing."

The report said the following criteria should be followed in the interstate spur development:

1. Enable direct and easy access to the central business district, university, capital and the 2 major industrial areas.
  2. Close 14th, 16th, 17th
  3. Make allowances for possible closing of 14th, 16th and 17th through the University campus. Also enable use of R street as local street serving University.
  4. Provide for a new viaduct on No. 10th as local connection between Hayward School area and supplemental access to north of the University.
  5. Should not divide the Hayward School residential area.
  6. Should be related to proposed Northeast Diagonal and circumferential 1-way pairs around central business district.
- While national aspects of the interstate system has been emphasized, the report noted that major use would be for local traffic.

Trans-U.S. Super Skyways Set Up To Avoid Collisions

Washington (AP) — Three transcontinental super skyways, on which traffic will be directed from the ground, were created Wednesday in another move to lessen the risk of air collisions.

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), announcing what it called "this historic experiment," said the air corridors would be charted out for use beginning June 15.

All flights on the super skyways—civil and military—will be regulated by Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) traffic controllers.

The restricted corridors will be 40 miles wide between altitudes of 17,000 to 22,000 feet. Within them all aircraft will be separated by at least 1,000 feet up and down and 10 minutes flying time horizontally.

Each flight will thus occupy a "cocoon of its own airspace," CAB said. There will be no mingling of planes flying variously on instruments or simply on pilots' vision, a mixture which has led to an increasing number of near misses and actual mid-air crashes.

Two such collisions within a month, involving military jets and commercial airliners, set off congressional investigations of flight hazards and precipitated new safety measures by government aviation agencies.

The fatal crashes, near Las Vegas, Nev., and Brunswick, Md., took 61 lives.

Clearance Needed
Subsequent proposals by President Eisenhower and his Air Coordinating Committee were designed to segregate military and civilian flights wherever possible. In the super skyway system, no aircraft of any type will be allowed to enter or cross the designated routes without CAA clearance.

Cities along the anticipated routes, besides the coastal hubs, are Cleveland, Chicago, Grand Island, Neb., Denver, Las Vegas, Rock River, Wyo., Salt Lake City, Pittsburgh, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, Farmington, N.M., Terre Haute, Ind., Springfield and Quincy, Ill., and Appleton, Ohio—A route intersection just east of Columbus.

Hot Day, 85-95, On Tap For State

It'll be a hot day in the old state Thursday.

That's the opinion of the Weather Bureau, which forecast 85 to 95 degree highs across the state.

The southwest, west and south-central will receive showers and thunderstorms Thursday afternoon and evening, it was predicted, but they'll be of the scattered variety.

Chadron got a taste of the warmer air Wednesday, with a high reading of 89. The state's low was a chilly 38 at Norfolk. Lincoln's temperatures were spread from 78 to 49.

MRS. ALICE W. BURKE

Lyons Car Crash Kills Lincolnite

... Mrs. Burke Victim

Lyons, Neb. (AP)—Mrs. Alice W. Burke, 60, of 5903 Walker St., Lincoln, was killed Wednesday when the car in which she was riding smashed into the rear of a halted truck on U.S. Highway 77 just north of here.

Highway Patrolman A. J. Nielsen said Mrs. Burke was a passenger in a car driven by Mrs. Frances Stuart, 62, whose address was listed as York.

Mrs. Stuart was hospitalized at Oakland, then transferred to Methodist Hospital in Sioux City, Iowa.

Trooper Nielsen said Mrs. Stuart's car struck a tank truck which had been towed by a wrecker, Victor A. Westerman, 39, of Decatur had been driving the truck owned by Jack Wright of Decatur.

It had been towed by a wrecker driven by Clyde B. Schrader, 39, of Niobrara. The wrecker and the truck were halted and the drivers were not in the vehicles when the accident occurred, Nielsen said.

The death raised Nebraska's 1958 traffic fatality toll to 95, compared with 97 at this time last year.

Worked At Whitehall

Formerly of Bassett, Mrs. Burke had resided in Lincoln for about 3 years. She was the widow of Dr. Charles E. Burke, Bassett dentist. Mrs. Burke was employed at Whitehall in Lincoln.

Mrs. Burke and her sister, Mrs. Stuart, had been visiting in Bassett and were believed en route to Sioux City at the time of the accident.

Surviving Mrs. Burke are 2 sons, James of Lincoln and Julius of Hastings; a daughter, Mrs. Royce Kreitman of Lincoln; 6 grandchildren, a brother and several sisters.

4 Men Dead In Slate Fall

Madison, W.Va. (AP)—A slate fall dropped without warning in a southern West Virginia coal mine Wednesday, killing 4 men.

Two others, trapped for several hours, saved themselves by digging beneath machinery seconds after the top let go in the Wharton No. 2 mine at Barrett. One of the survivors was seriously injured.

Rescue teams dug their way to the 4 bodies but were able to remove only one of them. The body of Harry Hartman, 23, of Uneeda, was taken to a mortuary.

Company officials identified the other victims as William Bain of Bim, 34-year-old section foreman; James Stone, about 36, of Uneeda, and Cecil Brown, about 47, of Barrett.

The 2 men trapped for more than 4 hours but able to get out alive were Holley Drennen, about 35, of Barrett, and Pat Jarrell, also of Barrett.

Drennen had taken shelter under a bolting machine but the heavy slate partially collapsed it. He appeared to be in deep shock when brought from the mine.

Lawmakers Ponder After General Gets Nod

Paris Street Crowds Shout Anti-Gaullist Slogans

Paris (Thursday) (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle and the leaders of Parliament met in secret early Thursday at the direction of President Rene Coty to seek a way of putting de Gaulle in power.

Their meeting broke up without announced results.

Parliament, where de Gaulle has little strength, was the legal stumbling block.

Thousands of demonstrators in milling Paris street crowds shouted anti-Gaullist slogans to emphasize his mass unpopularity.

The dour, hawk-nosed War War II hero went into a huddle near midnight with the speakers of the National Assembly and Senate to determine whether he could be made acceptable to Parliament. Then his date with destiny was deferred.

Heads Back Home

When the meeting broke up de Gaulle unexpectedly headed back to his country home, whence he had come Wednesday at Coty's summons, presumably to head France's 26th postwar government.

There was no official announcement of the outcome of these first consultations.

Informed sources said the speakers—Radical Socialist Gaston Monnerville of the Senate and Socialist Andre Le Troquer of the Assembly—were pessimistic.

They were reported to have told Coty they did not expect any results for the moment.

Street demonstrations had made plain the opposition of a large segment of the French people to de Gaulle.

Gravest Since War

But his many foes in parliament were under pressure to accept him as the only choice in France's gravest crisis since the war.

De Gaulle's sudden departure from Paris gave rise to speculation he had been unable to reach any agreement with the President's representatives. Le Troquer and Monnerville are officially ranked No. 2 and No. 3, respectively, in French officialdom.

Mrs. de Gaulle told reporters Wednesday night at the de Gaulle home in Colombey-Doux-Eglises, 150 miles east of Paris, that the general would not be returning immediately.

De Gaulle is bidding for power at the height of a crisis which Premier Pierre Pflimlin, who presented his resignation early Wednesday, says threatens civil war.

It is up to Le Troquer and Monnerville to see if they can overcome the normally great parliamentary opposition to de Gaulle and Rightist ideas of authoritarian government.

The general's latest visit to the capital lasted perhaps 6 hours.

Snark Fired From Cape

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—Another Snark intercontinental guided missile streaked over the Atlantic from the Air Force missile test center Wednesday night.

The 68-foot long Snark is this nation's most accurate long range weapon, but it travels a comparatively slow speed of 600 m.p.h.

The missile poured out a huge ball of yellow flame as it blasted away from the tip of the cape.

Its twin solid fuel booster rockets, which provide 130,000 pounds of thrust, dropped away shortly after the missile was airborne and a powerful Pratt and Whitney jet engine took over.

The Northrup missile, which appeared to carry signal lights, traced a horizontal path as it darted in and out of 2 thick cloud banks. It was out of sight in several minutes.

Jobless Aid Bill Passed

OKs Federal Pay To States For Unemployed

Washington (AP) — The Senate passed and sent to the White House Wednesday a bill authorizing federal advances to the states to finance a temporary extension of unemployment benefits.

The vote was 80-0 on passage, after various counter proposals were turned down. The legislation, somewhat modified by the House from the form requested by President Eisenhower, nevertheless had administration backing as a way of easing the recession's impact.

Payments Vary

It permits the federal government to advance funds to the states to extend by as much as one-half the number of weeks in which workers eligible for unemployment insurance may draw benefits.

The amount and duration of payments vary from state to state, but in more than half the states this would amount to 13 additional weeks.

The Senate rejected all efforts to change the House bill, including a proposal by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) to require all states to provide benefits for an additional 16 weeks. Kennedy's move lost 57-27.

The bill sent to the White House leaves it up to the states whether or not to participate. Eisenhower originally proposed that the states be required to take part, but both the House and the Senate balked at that.

Eisenhower's original proposal was rejected by a Senate roll call vote of 54-26. It was offered by Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.).

Police Drop 1 Patrolman Downtown

The Police Department has reduced its downtown foot patrol to 4 officers from the former 5.

Since the employment of 4 meter maids for downtown parking enforcement, the downtown officers have been assigned to general police activity, according to Chief Joe Carroll.

With each officer having a day off each week, it is uncommon to have all 4 officers for general police activity, Carroll's report to Mayor Martin said.

One officer devotes his entire morning to assisting the collections from parking meters.

Carroll said the department believes the 4 meter maids have "helped parking turnover considerably since they devote full-time to this enforcement."

Nebraskan In Command

A native Nebraskan, 48-year-old Navy Captain John Barr Colwell of Pawnee City, has assumed charge of the missile cruiser Galveston, first American warship to be armed with the powerful Talos missile.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Colwell of Pawnee City, Captain Colwell was graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1931 and has since been in service.

He is a graduate of the Pawnee City High School.

His wife, 3 sons and one daughter reside in Washington. A brother, William, Pawnee County attorney, and a sister, Mrs. David Herries, both live in Pawnee City.

A story on the commissioning of the Galveston appears on page 20.

Defense Reshuffle Plan Ruffles Ike

Charges 'Legalized Insubordination'

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday certain provisions of the defense reorganization bill approved by the House Armed Services Committee would lead to "legalized insubordination" in the armed forces.

In a statement after a conference with Secretary of Defense McElroy, the President singled out 3 features of the bill for criticism. He said they directly conflict with the reorganization program he recommended, and added:

"These provisions continue to emphasize disunity and separatism within the Defense Department. They continue to imply congressional approval of wasteful duplications, administrative delays and interservice rivalries."

Eisenhower said the provisions would add up, in specific cases, to (1) a legalized bottleneck, (2) a case of "everyone's out of step but me," and (3) legalized insubordination.

In his statement, Eisenhower said:

"The committee has acted commendably on most of the needed changes, but in dealing with our defense establishment pretty good is not good enough and going part way is not going far enough."

'Right'

"America, having started on this reorganization, wants the job done right."

In his analysis, the President objected to a provision saying that no feature of the reorganization program shall be construed to prevent a service secretary or a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff from presenting to Congress, on their own initiative after first informing the Secretary of Defense, any recommendations relating to the Defense Department they might deem proper.

It was that provision which Eisenhower said "is best described as legalized insubordination."

County GOP To Pick Brehm

Commissioner Appears Shoo-In; Demos Likely To Re-Elect Slate

By Don Walton
Russell Brehm will be elected Lancaster County Republican chairman Thursday at the GOP county convention, informed party sources predicted Wednesday night.

His has been the only name seriously mentioned in party circles since Chairman James Ackerman let it be known that he would not seek reelection to the position to which he was appointed last year.

The Lincoln attorney has made no public announcement of his plans, but the word has traveled quickly to county delegates that he wishes to step down.

Brehm would only say, "I'm for Ackerman."
Election of the 35-year-old retiring county commissioner would add further impetus to a rampaging youth movement in Nebraska's Republican Party.

State Chairman Richard E. Spelts of Grand Island is 38; National Committeeman Donald R. Ross of Omaha is 35; Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln, executive secretary of the state central committee, is 24; and the man in charge of party finances, a position long reserved for party elders, is 47. That's John Cooper of Humboldt.

Hruska A Partner
Furthermore, a business partner of Brehm will keynote the county convention. Sen. Roman Hruska of Omaha, holder of the party's chief political plum—senior senator, is a partner with Brehm and H. S. Gould of Omaha in a theater chain operation.

He'll be on hand to address the convention Thursday morning, and that will hardly hurt Brehm's chances.

And Brehm supporters list plenty of qualifications for their candidate.
The publisher was the youngest man ever elected to public office in Lancaster County. In 1946, at 24 he was elected county commissioner, a post which he has held continuously since that date, having served 8 times as chairman of the County Board.

He has never been defeated in an election since he upset 11-year incumbent Commissioner Clinton J. Mitchell in the 1946 primary.

Long active in Republican activities, he was re-appointed by Gov. Victor Anderson to serve on the advisory committee to the State Board of Control in 1956, a position he has held since appointed by former Gov. Val Peterson in 1946.

Barring a real surprise, his election should highlight Republican activities here Thursday.

Democrats will meet Thursday evening, no doubt re-elect county officers (except their vice chairwoman and secretary, both of whom wish to step down) and listen to Lincoln attorney Frank Morrison, senatorial candidate and county convention keynote.

Lincoln real estate man A. Clifford Anderson was elected county chairman in 1956 after a bitter party struggle, has chalked up a reputation for hard work in the position and appears a cinch for reelection.

Both conventions will name 38 delegates to their state conventions, the Democrats at Omaha June 21 and the Republican at Alliance Sept. 15.

Democrats will meet in most of Nebraska's 93 counties Thursday, State Chairman Willard E. Townsend of Lincoln said. Some conventions "will actually be caucuses," he noted.

GOP Chairman Spelts predicted a turnout of 5 to 7 thousand Republicans for conventions in "practically a 11 93 counties."

Republicans are generally obtaining nominees to county offices as keynoters, Spelts said. He will keynote the Hall County gathering at Grand Island.

He will plug again for a partisan Legislature, a task which his party platform charged him with in an effort to obtain partisan election of senators and thus bring "responsibility" to legislative action, Spelts explained.

'No Disagreement'
Faulkner, apparently referring to Res's reported comments, said: "There's no real disagreement because nothing has been decided."

He expressed "hope that Bartholomew, Barton, the University, and the Commission can name the best possible plan to the Council."

"The Council and this group can then present this plan to Res and the Federal Bureau of Roads," he added.

"It looks like the views are beginning to narrow down so that the best possible plan can be found," he commented.

George Barton, traffic consultant to the city, has not yet submitted his analysis and report of traffic flow and intersection problems.

It is believed this supplemental report will be submitted within 2 weeks.

Contractors Honor Students

Receiving the Associated General Contractors' winning working drawings are the following two University of Nebraska architectural students: Guy Richard Dunn of North Platte, (middle) first prize; and Jack J. Budler of Aurora, second prize. Making the presentation is Orville Kingery Jr., vice president of the Associated General Contractors. Third prize was won by Ronald G. Mestl of Dodge.

Excise Tax Extension Is Voted

Washington (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee approved Wednesday a 12-month extension of corporate income and excise taxes at their present rates. The 21-2 vote was interpreted as closing the door on any substantial tax reductions this year.

Rep. Thaddeus M. Machrowicz (D-Mich) tried to get the excise tax on new automobiles reduced from 10% to 7, but his amendment was defeated 19-2.

Machrowicz told newsmen he would make another attempt to get the reduction in separate legislation. He added, however, he thought the powerful House committee had set the tax pattern for 1958.

First prize of $150 was won by Guy Richard Dunn of North Platte, Dunn, who enrolled in the spring of 1956, has been employed by the Ely-Hoppe Lumber Co. of North Platte, and part-time by Hazen and Robinson architects.

Second prize of $100 went to Jack J. Budler of Aurora, a 1946 graduate of Hampton High School who entered the University in the fall of 1953. Budler has been working part-time for the Olson Construction Co.

Third prize of $50 was won by Ronald G. Mestl of Dodge, a fourth year architectural student.

Lienemann For Closing On Saturday

County Commissioner Del Lienemann has gone on record in favor of a proposal by the Lancaster County B. A. R. Assn. that the County Courthouse be closed all day Saturdays.

The bar association recently conducted a poll which showed their members favored closing the Courthouse all day Saturdays instead of just Saturday afternoons as now done. But County Board Chairman Russell Brehm said he is opposed to the proposal because he believes there are many persons who cannot conduct their business at the Courthouse except on Saturdays.

Commissioner Rollin Bailey said he wants to discuss the matter with attorneys and with District Judges Harry A. Spencer, Paul White, Harry Ankeny and John Polk before commenting. The bar association pool showed a 120-84 margin for closing all day Saturdays.

The 4 District Judges themselves have declined to comment on the matter.

Also included in the association's poll was the finding that the attorneys favored having one judge handle the assignment of all law and equity cases. Two judges now split the assignment duties.

President Worried Over Mounting Prices

... He Feels Recession Force About Spent

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday the downward force of the recession is largely spent and does not justify a federal tax reduction.

Eisenhower showed as much concern over price rises as over the business slump. The latter we are weathering well, he told his news conference, but persistent inflation can lead us into "very, very serious trouble."

The President deplored any attempt at wage-price control as being incompatible with a free economy. Yet if inflation continues, "something will have to be done, sure," he said.

"I don't know what the government can do," he admitted, "as long as it insists upon the freedom of an economy to establish its own wage and price levels."

As one stabilizing approach, Eisenhower called for "sanity in spending" on military programs. The country has recovered from the atmosphere of urgency and crisis generated by Russia's Sputniks and the onset of recession, he said, now it can examine critically every dollar spent on defense—and, he added, achieve economies by enacting his own program for reorganizing the pentagon.

Eisenhower dealt with a half-hour crossfire of questions calmly, deliberately and with self-assurance. Mostly the newsmen stuck to domestic problems, because at the outset he barred questions on the crises in France and Lebanon as being too delicate to discuss.

City To Observe U.S. Youth Fitness Week June 1 To 7

Lincoln citizens have been called upon to observe National Youth Fitness Week proclaimed for June 1 to 7 and support the program's activities.

Mayor Bennett Martin also announced the appointment of Glenn Yaussi as chairman of the Lincoln Committee on Youth Fitness.

As a result of the shocking report that American children physically lagged behind their European contemporaries, President Eisenhower created the President's Council on Youth Fitness and a citizens advisory committee.

Purpose of the program is to encourage all youth serving organizations, parents, schools and general public in awareness of the situation and to do something about it.

Roberts Coordinator
Gov. Victor Anderson has appointed J. Gordon Roberts of Omaha as coordinator of the state program.

BATS IN BELFREY? NAW, IT'S NOW A CASE OF BIRDS IN CHIMNEY

Back in medieval days, it was a common occurrence to find bats in the belfry of every palatial estate. Today, the bats in the belfry have been replaced by birds in the chimney.

And Mrs. Emma J. Lautzenheiser of 3030 O St. will testify that birds in the chimney can constitute a hazard in the home.

Mrs. Lautzenheiser knew something was amiss early Wednesday morning as she went about her household chores. She paused several times to sniff the air.

At 10 a.m., a neighbor dropped over for a short visit, and commented on a gaseous odor inside the house. Mrs. Lautzenheiser and the neighbor searched for the possible leak in the gas line that could be releasing the odor.

Finally, they looked in the chimney, and the trouble was spotted. An energetic swallow family had utilized the warm chimney for a winter residence, and the nest was lodged snugly over the vent that allowed vapors from a water heater and other gas appliances to escape.

Mrs. Lautzenheiser shut off the gas, called a serviceman, and now has no birds, no nest and a problem-free chimney.

FATE STILL MYSTERY

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP) — Informed sources said Wednesday the Navy may never learn what happened to its latest Vanguard satellite.

The general feeling was that the 21½ pound sphere plummeted back to earth and disintegrated, but there was a remote possibility that it sailed into an erratic orbit somewhere in space.

It was reported that scientists sifting through a maze of telemetry data discovered that an electrical malfunction at the last split second probably caused the 50-pound third stage vehicle to stray off its prescribed course.

Boy, 15, Injured In Scooter Crash

A 15-year-old Lincoln boy injured in a car-motor scooter accident Wednesday morning at 51st and Randolph was reported in satisfactory condition at a local hospital.

Ike Says 'Hold-The-Line' Violation Can't Be Helped

President Cites Postal Pay Hike

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower said the new billion-dollar pay raise for government employees somewhat violates his own hold-the-wage-line advice to private business, but can't be helped.

The President's comments bore a certain resemblance to misgivings expressed by private employers, who say they would like to curb wage increases, especially during the recession, but often can't as a practical matter.

Eisenhower only Tuesday signed a 380-million-dollar annual pay raise bill for postal employees. Recently he approved a 576-million-dollar boost for military personnel. A similar pay raise for a million or more other federal employees is expected to clear Congress soon.

At his news conference, the President said the pay hikes for postal workers were more liberal in some cases than he had recommended and inadequate in other cases, and he's been plugging for the military pay raise for a long time.

Reality

Inherent in the President's remarks is the reality of modern-day labor negotiations—that wages for various worker groups are never stable and one or another group is always jockeying to correct claimed inequities.

Eisenhower for many months has been advocating that increases in both wages and prices be justified by true gains in productivity—that is, that improvements come only from demonstrated gains in output and performance. Otherwise inflation or distorted values result, he has said.

Few challenge that precept, but productivity is hard to isolate and measure or apply to a given situation. In fact, not only labor and management but the government itself has substantially ignored the principle.

The postal pay raise was based on arguments presented to Congress that living costs have soared and that workers in private industry have received wage increases. There are the same arguments most employers face in their labor negotiations.

Thus, the President was faced with pretty much the choice private employers must make. In signing the postal bill, with its increased postal rates, he said he did it "because it is clear that those provisions which are in the public interest outweigh the objectionable provisions of the bill."

New Aid Concept

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Action of the Senate Foreign Relations committee has placed a new light on proposals for economic aid to foreign nations. In reporting an aid bill out to the floor of the Senate, the committee urged an economic aid program for Russia's European satellites.

The measure was immediately attacked by Sen. William F. Knowland of California who said that such aid cannot be justified. The mutual security program, Knowland contends, was founded on the theory that help should be provided only for nations that are willing to stand together in maintenance of the free world. The committee reported that such aid would be a means of taking advantage of "a series of cracks" which have appeared in the Iron Curtain.

No one denies that there is some risk involved in giving aid to Communist nations. At the same time, it can be pointed out that the thoughts expressed by Knowland are the very ones which have defeated this country's purposes in the Middle East, in South America and in other areas.

It is the thought which stipulates to aid recipients that the act stems, not from a basic desire to help a fellow human being, but from a desire to bolster our own security in the world. It is a thought which calls for payment in kind to us from nations which receive our help. We want their allegiance and prefer to see them with a political system patterned after ours.

All of these things are worthy objections but they have failed and will continue to fail as a basis for giving aid. They can bring nothing but resentment against the United States from those nations upon which they are thrust. Knowland still appears to have a mistaken notion of what the U.S. should accomplish with its aid program.

It is nothing short of ridiculous to believe that the aid program is going to make a nation back the U.S. in diplomatic negotiations or fight with the U.S. in any war. The primary objective of any aid program has to be to raise the standard of living in a nation and thereby plant fertile seeds for the spread of democracy rather than Communism.

We must have enough faith in our system and its merits to believe that, given a decent opportunity, civilization will choose democracy and freedom over Communism and enslavement. When we attempt to stuff our way of life and our political philosophy down the throats of any other people, we are defeating at once the very idea we are seeking to put across.

The friendships and allegiance we gain from any program which spreads the seeds of democracy must be considered as a bonus. The same reasoning applies to nations behind the Iron Curtain or those cloaked in any other garments. As we said, the chance of success behind the Iron Curtain is smaller, but it is by no means non-existent.

What the Senate committee has proposed is nothing more than Russia has been doing for quite some time. She has seen the realistic side of foreign aid while we have been unable to do so. Her offers of aid and technical assistance have not been confined to her satellite nations. She is constantly in search of nations, regardless of their political philosophy, that will merely do business with her. Once this tie is made, there is time later to slip the noose around the principal's neck.

The whole question of foreign aid and the committee proposal involves the so-called "agonizing reappraisal" of U.S. foreign policy which has been advocated in some quarters but given the kiss of death by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. What more proof of need for this reappraisal could there be than the present state of world affairs?

Russia, The Realist

November Looking Big

With the sun bearing down from a clear blue sky, most people are probably not giving much thought today to November. But that month this year will be quite a bit more than just another time for a change of seasons. The days will be getting shorter then, to be sure, and the leaves will be showing their last touch of green. But on Nov. 4, the people of the state will be going to the polls for an important election. For the people of Lincoln it will be an even bigger than average affair. The time cannot be recalled when a greater array of things was on the ballot than will be the case in the coming general election.

There will be voting on the House and Senate offices, the governor, Legislature, all other state offices, the county and Sanitary District. There will be voting on a minimum of seven and perhaps 10 or 11 state constitutional amendments.

Now, the City Council has voted to place on the same ballot the proposed new city charter. This will involve 32 separate propositions, each of vital importance and substantial effect upon the affairs of the city.

By the time election rolls around, even more issues might find their way to the voting booths. There are some who will criticize the city for choosing this time for the new charter. However, it might also be suggested that the matter of timing is not nearly so important as many people would like to believe.

We are inclined to think that timing is little more than somebody's excuse for the defeat of an issue. If no other reason can be found or none will be admitted, then defeat is laid to poor timing.

What is much more important is an informed electorate. This may be difficult but it is no more nor less so in any other month of the year. What the city needs to do now is start planning early a program for getting the people completely familiar with all parts of the proposed new charter.

Tax Question Still Lives

President Eisenhower's decision against a tax cut as a recession remedy has not closed the subject. It is Congress that makes the laws, and not all of the Congress agrees with its own leadership where that agrees with the President.

Senator Paul Douglas, D., Ill., is the Senate's only learned economist and he will lead the dissatisfied segments of the Congress in an effort to lower taxes, but by a different manner than that considered by the administration. Where the latter contemplated proposals of greatest relief to the employers of people in massive numbers, the Douglas approach would emphasize personal income tax relief and benefits to smaller business.

Of economic speculation there is no end, but the Douglas position does not wholly clash with the decision of the President.

The difference is rather in the means and in an appraisal of urgency. Sen. Douglas esteems the recession as more profound and dangerous.

While the President seems to be beyond criticism for the prudence of his decision on the kind of tax cuts under his consideration, such criticism as can be attached to his administration lies in the contention that positive and constructive, creative action has not been invoked. The administration seems to have taken refuge in the built-in defenses against economic relapses as conceived by the New Deal covering a set of facts that existed then, but perhaps not identical with those at this juncture. The agencies of unemployment insurance, relief and interest rate jockeying have provided most of the cushion, but they were more designed to cushion an economic drop rather than correct it.

Memorial Day

Nebraska is not going to find anything wanting in a background of natural beauty and verdant abundance for its observance of Memorial Day. Nor, as usual, will it find anything wanting in the human tenderness of the occasion.

Generations come and go, have a beginning and an end, but the memory of human companionship is an unbroken thing, as the living will know Friday as it pauses for soft reflection among the headstones.

There never was a time in human experience when there was not a memorial occasion. But this year happens to be the 90th anniversary of a declaration that gave form and pattern to a special day for it in the most parts of America. It was an outgrowth of the War Between the States and was inspired by the women of the South who carried flowers to the graves of their fallen men. The soldiers of the occupying North learned that there was something a great deal more than victory. They never forgot that no one will ever conquer love.

It was inevitable that Gen. John A. Logan commander of the Grand Army of the Republic would issue in 1868 a general order directing his veterans to strew flowers on the graves of their dead comrades every May 30th. Thus, Decoration Day began in the North. The dates for it still vary in the South and time has changed the observance to include everyone, and to rename it Memorial Day.

Poetic Justice

The World Health Organization will shortly hold a ceremonial meeting in Minnesota. The national administration thought it would be timely and appropriate to name all five Minnesota congressmen as honorary delegates. That would get away from any hint of playing favorites.

The WHO is about as far removed from political subversiveness as one could imagine. It is just an organization that hopes to find everyone's liver in good order. But the fat got in the fire when the government had to start security investigations of the five congressmen because of a law passed in 1948 which says any official attending an international meeting must have his shirt seams examined for subversive lice. In a way it is poetic justice. Of course the law so undiscerning as is the 1948 act is silly, but congressmen passed it and their own work ought not to gall them.

FBI Gets Touchy Over Criticism

WASHINGTON — Anyone traveling behind the Iron Curtain comes back with new insight into the security police. These are the police who keep an eye on civilians to make sure they are loyal to the government. No one living behind the Iron Curtain ever dares criticize the security police. To criticize would mean investigation and personal ruin.

Returning to Washington I find that it has also become dangerous to criticize the FBI here. After Cyrus Eaton, the Cleveland industrialist and chief stockholder of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, dared criticize the FBI on a Mike Wallace TV interview, he was promptly slapped with notification that he would be subpoenaed to testify before the House committee on un-American Activities.

This put Eaton in an almost criminal light for exercising his right of free speech in criticizing the FBI. It also put the un-American Activities Committee in the same light as Communist governments behind the Iron Curtain; and it put the FBI in the same light as the security police behind the Iron Curtain.

It now develops that Congressman Gordon Scherer, Ohio Republican, close friend of J. Edgar Hoover, had written a letter to all members of the un-American Activities Committee urging that Eaton be subpoenaed for questioning. When asked about reports that Hoover had inspired his letter urging that Eaton be subpoenaed, Scherer denied it, but added that the FBI was "happy about it."

Staff Director Arens, determined to produce some evidence against Eaton, is now checking on the following leads:

1. That Eaton sponsored an economic meeting in Cleveland at which the Soviet ambassador, Mikhail Menshikov, was present.

2. That Eaton sponsored a meeting of scientists at Poughkeepsie, N.Y., attended by Dr. Linus Pauling of Cal Tech who has favored the ending of H-bomb tests.

3. That Eaton has made statements critical of our foreign policy; has said that Russia "doesn't want war;" and has said that we should try harder to "get along" with Russia in order to preserve peace.

Some congressmen believe that if the committee can investigate Eaton for something like this, it could broaden the investigation into a nationwide witch hunt of various officials and individuals who entertained the Soviet ambassador, or were seen with him, in the many cities he has visited in the United States. The Soviet ambassador has appeared at a National Press Club luncheon here and its executives might also be investigated.

Blueblood Minnie's Big Surprise

By HAL HASSELBALCH
Star Staff Writer

Talk about surprises! This is about all the John Ames family at 1912 So. 40th have been experiencing ever since the night in mid-February when they were startled to learn that a dog was waiting to be picked up at the airport.

There had been some talk around the Ames household about the advisability of acquiring a new dog. But no one in the family had any idea a relative in Washington had crated a bloodhound for the Ames.

Unexpected as Minnie was, she was given a most cordial reception and immediately she became the project of Lucy, 9, the youngest of the two Ames girls. It was up to Lucy to see that blue-blood Minnie got the training necessary to stand her in good stead as a competitor in the show ring.

But Minnie had a few surprises in store before the Ames were to be free to go ahead with their plans for her. In March a routine trip to the veterinarian disclosed that Minnie was soon to become a mother.

Then, as the Ides of March were at hand, Minnie delivered 5 purebred bloodhound pups. Of these, 3 survived.

Until then Minnie was believed to be the only bloodhound in Nebraska.

The sequel to the unassuming arrival of Minnie's family came when application was made to the former owner for the papers of the brood. Minnie's former owner was all but positive that motherhood was not in store for Minnie.

A model of determination and concentration, Minnie recently suffered a cut nose when she chased a rabbit out of the Ames' yard, into the street and under a moving garbage truck. Luckily the truck was not moving very fast and though her single-minded efforts to catch the rabbit were interrupted, Minnie was not seriously injured.

It has been only recently that she has had time for such escapades. Now the 3 survivors of her litter are mature enough to fend for themselves for the most part. And fend they do. None of them has got used to being called by his name so they do not answer to them even if they do happen to be within earshot, which is always doubtful.

All 3 pups, Rover, Scipio Africanus and Pussy Willow, have energy to spare. Bloodhounds can track any blooded animal, so the Ames pack tracks anything they can scare up in the 3-acre grounds that surround the Ames home.

Minnie's special project is the milkman. Although the breed is famous for its affectionate nature, Minnie has taken a dislike to the man who delivers the Ames milk. If he gets out of sight before Minnie knows he is around, she picks up his trail and tracks him to the street and finally up the street the way he left.

The Ames think they are about ready to reckon with Minnie since she has been with them 3 months, but they are not going to be too much taken aback if Minnie comes up with a new trick to forestall training.

In the meantime, the Ames will be quietly trying to find a way to dispose of 3 rambunctious pups. Quietly, because all know the family is overstocked with dogs, but no one wants to admit the fact and be labeled as the one who broke up this happy set of surprises.

Elgin History

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Elgin National Watch Company. Born in 1946, Lincoln, Nebraska. Died in 1958, Lincoln, Nebraska, after a long illness. Survivors include 2,300 employees, their families, friends, and many who will be indirectly affected. Mourners may be seen at unemployment office. Cause of death may be attributed to the recession, low tariff on imports, or cheap foreign labor. Close association revealed it operated under the delusion that it had an inexhaustible amount of money.

Many of us are in that awkward over-30 age, "too old" for many places and "too young" for a pension. It is for that reason that we are entitled to severance pay.

Elgin was a place where one was neither praised for work well done nor censured for being careless. No one really cared. Tension was always high, caused mostly from a feeling of insecurity. The last four months was almost unbearable. There was a layoff in the air at all times, even while they were hiring new personnel.

Seniority was to have reigned, as stated in the union contract, but whenever they wanted to keep someone, with or without a special skill, he was given a key number. That key number was his protection against people with more seniority. Many with eight years were terminated before those with less than two. Most of the time we dangled like puppets on a string.

We had many extremes during the years. There were those who kept busy only a few minutes per day. The rest of the day they were free to sit around and yawn. On the other hand we had those on incentive — working feverishly to meet a high hourly quota — using both hands, both eyes, and one foot. Many could have been placed to better advantage.

Several meetings were held between management and labor. Pertinent questions were brought up and suggestions made which could have increased efficiency, thereby putting Elgin on a profitable basis. The arrogant attitude toward labor left one with an empty feeling; knowing nothing would be done to correct a situation.

I am grateful to Elgin for giving me 10 years, eight months, and 19 days of employment. My work was tedious, monotonous, and fatiguing, but close association with so many wonderful people lightened it somewhat. I am the proud owner of two Elgin watches, one 10 years old which keeps perfect time, and one for better wear.

Good times and bad may eventually pass into oblivion but the tender memory of those yellow paychecks will always remain.

The Subnormal

Anselmo, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: An editorial in Monday's Star brings up a subject that should be examined and studied very closely. We are trying to make life better for the common and needy people. We wish all to have a chance to enjoy life. Medical science has done wonders in saving life. Years ago infants died by the thousands for want of proper care. Now we are able to save all if there is a breath of life. There are many subnormal, some mentally retarded, but we hope to cure them, and in the last generation we have kept many living who could not survive except with artificial appliances. Now, as you mention, many of these are still alive, have married and are raising families, but some are subnormal both in physical and mental development. We are trying to establish schools for the subnormal and help them some, but seems as if our subnormal parents more often have subnormal children. Will these subnormal children eventually increase faster? What is the answer?

Ike Backed In View 'Recession Spent'

Commerce Unit Indicates U.S. Slump Slowing

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower got some backing for his contention that the recession is largely spent and this is not the time for a tax cut.

The Commerce Department provided statistics indicating the business slump is slowing down. And on the tax question, the House Ways and Means Committee approved a 12-month extension of present corporate income and excise taxes, which Eisenhower had asked. The taxes expire July 1 unless Congress extends them.

Eisenhower told a news conference the downward force of the recession is largely spent but showed special concern for rising prices. Persistent inflation, he said, can lead us into "very, very serious trouble."

The Commerce Department figures showed that business inventories dropped faster than sales last month for the first time since the slump began.

New Order

Another moderately encouraging figure was that for new orders. The value of new orders received by manufacturers was off more than usual last month, but the drop was distorted because of large placements of defense contracts in March. A department economist said that if you eliminate the aircraft industry from the reckoning, new orders actually increased in April.

On the not so bright side, Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said congressional experts figure the government will go $11,100,000,000 into the red in the fiscal year starting July 1. He said they also estimate a deficit of $3,900,000,000 in the current year ending June 30.

And the Labor Department reported that New York, Chicago, Cleveland and Houston had joined the growing list of major labor market areas with a substantial worker surplus. Unemployment exceeds 6% in these.

Grew to 86

The list of such labor surplus areas grew from 70 in March to 86 in May, compared with 21 in May 1957.

The report by the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security said area surveys showed less than normal seasonal employment gains during the early spring rather than actual increases in joblessness.

Teen Barbecue, Dance Planned

A barbecue and dance are slated Memorial Day for teenagers, sponsored by the Home Guard Foundation, Inc.

The barbecue will be held at 4:30 p.m. Friday at the Antelope Park shelter house, with a dance set for the Antelope Pavilion at 7:30 p.m., according to Mrs. Esther Grinstead, Home Guard executive secretary.

A car wash will be operated Sunday, June 1 from 2 to 5 p.m. at Hinky Dinky Stores, 2535 O, as a fund-raising project for youth, Mrs. Grinstead said.

The Home Guard was originally incorporated in Dec., 1955, as a non-profit corporation to set up constructive programs for youth and to assist other organizations in youth guidance and programming.

Concrete OK'd At Hawthorne -If It's 'No-Glare'

Approval was given the Hawthorne School PTA to build a 30 foot square concrete play area—if it is colored to prevent glare.

The objection to concrete areas which cause blinding glares in nearby classrooms was voiced by Mrs. Roscoe Hill, and other School Board members concurred. Mrs. Hill cited the Millard Lefler School where sun striking paved area caused a glare in library rooms.

The Hawthorne School play area is estimated to cost about $250.

Alaska Statehood Gets House OK

SENATE ACTION IS AWAITED

Washington (P)—The House Wednesday passed 208-166 a bill to admit Alaska to statehood.

In a dramatic reversal of form, the House twice rejected efforts to send the bill

Washington (P)—Three of Nebraska's 4 Republican congressmen voted with the winning side as the House passed the Alaska statehood bill.

Reps. R. D. Harrison, A. L. Miller and Phil Weaver voted for the bill. Rep. Glenn Gunningham was against.

back to the House Insular Affairs Committee. It also defeated on a voice vote the decision by which it voted tentatively Tuesday to kill the bill.

The action sent the bill to the Senate where it faces a new and possibly stronger challenge. An Alaska bill, as well as one to admit Hawaii, has been on the Senate calendar since last June.

Southerners Oppose It
The statehood bill is opposed by most Southern senators who cite various reasons. But it is generally recognized that the Southerners mainly fear that the addition of new Senate seats would upset their balance of power in the Senate.

However, it was considered likely the bill will come up in the Senate by mid-June.

The House last passed an Alaska bill in 1950, by a vote of 186-146. A separate Alaska bill has never passed the Senate although a combined Alaska-Hawaii statehood measure cleared that body in 1954, only to die.

Voting for the bill Wednesday were 117 Democrats and 91 Republicans. Against it were 81 Democrats and 85 Republicans.

NU Law Dean Criticized For Fugate Action

Omaha (U)—State Sen. George Syas said Wednesday he did not think the dean of the University of Nebraska College of Law should have acted as a defense attorney for Caril Fugate.

Dean Edmund O. Belsheim said he entered the case because he is director of the Legal Aid Bureau, which comes to the assistance of clients who lack funds for an attorney.

"I don't believe this is the proper function of the university," Syas said. "Why should the taxpayers support a public defender for Lancaster County through the University of Nebraska?"

He said if Lancaster County needs a public defender he should be obtained "through proper channels" and at county expense.

50 Complaints Heard So Far By Equalization Board

By Del Harding

The Lancaster County Board of Equalization Wednesday completed its first 3 days of hearing protests by property owners on this year's tax assessments.

County Commissioners Rollin Bailey, Russell Brehm and Del Lienemann, meeting as the equalization board, heard 50 complaints Monday through Wednesday. Sixteen reductions in assessed valuation (mostly minor ones) were granted.

Fifteen property owners got no reductions and action on 19 other requests was deferred. The board will meet again to hear complaints June 11.

85 Complaints

Eighty-five complaints have been received so far this year. The total number last year was 152, compared with 219 in 1956 and 862 in 1955.

County Assessor Arthur Davis said the 1953 county-wide reappraisal resulted in the high number of protests in the years immediately following.

Here is a list of the property owners who have appeared before the board and the action taken on the property in question:

- Frank J. Dudek, 1827 So. 26th, recheck ordered
- James M. Reinhardt, 1512 So. 48th, reduced $700

Drug Parking Lot Given Plans Board Approval

The City Planning Commission has approved a special permit for a parking lot at the southeast corner of 14th and Plum.

Applicant was E. F. Allen for a 73 by 131-foot tract located to the rear of the Allen Drug Store at 14th and South. Two lots will be used immediately, but future expansion to include the 3rd lot is contemplated.

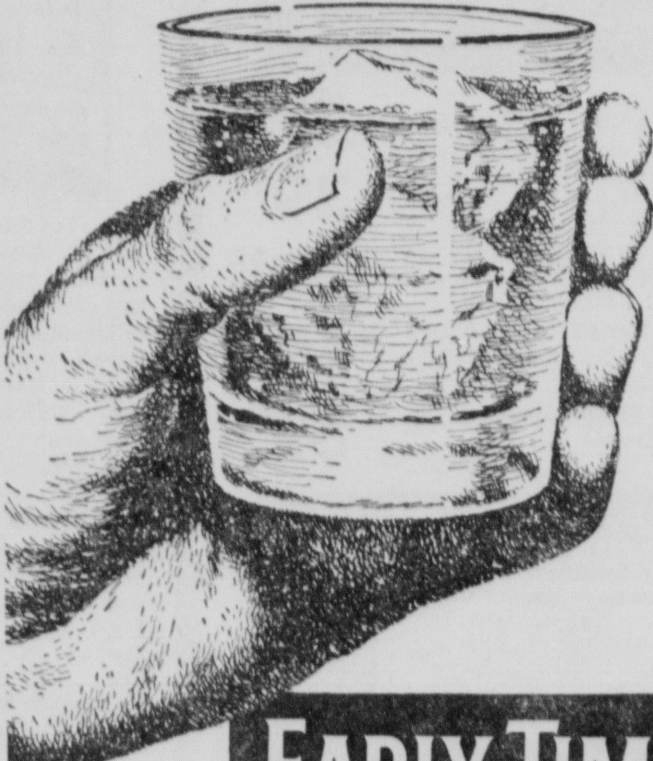

In other action, the Commission okayed the vacation of 26th between Center and the Rock Island right-of-way.

Also approved was the vacation of an alley adjoining the Grace Methodist Church property at 401 So. 27th.

The Commission was told the alley would relocate farther west to allow proposed building expansion.

Going to move soon? Be sure to notify the Circulation Department, giving both your old and new address.

Always smoother because it's slow-distilled

There are less costly ways to make bourbon whiskies—but they'll never give you the smoothness you get in Early Times. ## ENPPD Granted Authority Change

Approval for Eastern Nebraska Public Power District to change the nature of its authority was granted Wednesday by the Department of Water Resources.

Dan Jones Jr., director of the Department, said the application, which had no opposition, will permit Eastern to have the same authority as other power districts, including the right to construct power plants if it so desires.

Irvin E. Smith of Syracuse, general manager of ENPPD, said the district has no plans to build any power plants and that it made the application only for "clarification of the charter."

Eastern serves Pawnee, Johnson, Richardson, Otoe, Nemaha and Cass counties, and parts of Lancaster and Saunders counties.

GM Sets Own Terms For No-Contract Possibility

Detroit (AP)—General Motors Corp. set its own terms, including abandonment of the union shop and checkoff of union dues, if there is no contract settlement with the United Auto Workers when the present contract expires Thursday midnight.

GM president Harlow Curtice informed GM's 350,000 hourly rate employees the company will retain old wage schedules, benefit plans and working conditions the same as under the 1955 agreement.

The company stipulated the same conditions for members of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), whose contract also ends Thursday midnight. The union, however, has instructed its members to continue working if no agreement is reached with the auto companies. The UAW also has given local officials detailed instructions on how to operate in the event the companies refused to extend the present 3-year pacts on a day-to-day basis.

Curtice said, "union members will no longer have the obligation to pay dues to the union as a condition of continued employment in General Motors. The union shop provision having expired with termination of the national agreement, the union will be unable to request and cause the discharge of an employee for non-payment of union dues."

"New employees will not be required to join the union and pay initiation fees and dues as a condition of employment."

GM said it will make no deductions for union dues from wages of employees.

Earlier General Motors and Ford flatly rejected the UAW's proposal to bring federal mediators into the negotiations. Chrysler is expected to do likewise.

Both sides agreed there is faint hope of agreement on the GM pact before Thursday's deadline, or on the Ford and Chrysler contracts before their midnight Sunday expiration date.

Ford and Chrysler have not detailed plans for operating without new pacts, but both have indicated they will continue to function and on their own terms.

Goodyear, Union Talks Begin June 10

Nationwide contract negotiations between the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. and the United Rubber Workers union are slated to begin June 10 at Cleveland, O.

The union is asking for a "substantial" wage increase and added fringe benefits, according to R. L. Owen, president of the Lincoln chapter of the URW.

Owen said the average wage for the 493 URW employees at the Lincoln Goodyear plant is about $2 an hour at the present. The Lincoln plant employs approximately 20 non-union people, Owen said.

Negotiations for the new contract are expected to last 3 weeks, according to Owen. The present Goodyear-URW contract expires July 2, 1958.

'WONDERFUL' U.S. ADULT EDUCATION—TURK OFFICIAL

By Bill Anderson

The system of adult education in the United States is "wonderful," according to Osman F. Verimer, undersecretary of the Turkish Ministry of Education.

In the U.S. for a 2-month study of the American educational system, sponsored by the Educational Exchange Service of the Department of State, Verimer paused in Lincoln Wednesday for a 2-day visit at the University of Nebraska.

He said he has received nothing but excellent impressions of American education since he arrived here last month. "The Turkish educational system is very comparable to your system," he commented.

Verimer is traveling with David Atamian, a Turkish-born interpreter and official guide of the U.S. Department of State.

This is Verimer's 2nd trip to Lincoln, as he was here several years ago on invitation from the University.

"Some day I would like to come to your country, and spend a great deal of time looking at the beautiful scenery that is so common in many parts of the nation," he told The Star.

The undersecretary was a guest at dinner Wednesday night of Dr. K. O. Broady, director of the University of Nebraska extension division, and Mrs. Broady.

Memorial Day Services Set In State

By the Associated Press
The Rev. Felton S. James of Charleston, S. C., national chaplain of the American Legion, will head the list of distinguished speakers participating in Memorial Day observances in Nebraska Friday.

The Rev. Mr. James, pastor of the oldest and largest Methodist Church in Charleston, is a former department commander of the South Carolina American Legion, and a veteran of World War II. He prepared and taught the first course on "The Army Chaplain" at the Fort Belvoir, Va., officer candidate school.

National Chaplain James will be speaker at Omaha's Memorial Day exercises at Forest Lawn Cemetery, a joint observance by Omaha patriotic organizations.

The Rev. Gustav F. Kuhrkop, pastor of Trinity United Lutheran Church in Beatrice, and state chaplain of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will deliver the principal address at exercise in Beatrice. The services at Nichols Park will follow a parade including the Beatrice National Guard and various patriotic groups.

Capt. Robert A. Thatcher, commanding officer of the Hastings Naval Ammunition Depot, will be the principal speaker at services held at the Adams County Courthouse grounds in Hastings. At Memorial Elms services, Earl L. Hunter will be the speaker. The Memorial Elms services are held at 12th and Hastings Streets in Hastings where 30 Elms commemorate the men of Adams County whose lives were lost in World War I.

Compromise Bill Includes Three State Projects

Washington (AP)—Three Nebraska projects are included in compromise water project bills to replace the $1.5 billion measure voted by the President in April.

The bills were introduced this week in the House and Senate.

Included is $1,214,000 for Gering and Mitchell Valleys, $13,314,000 for Salt Creek and its tributaries and $2,025,000 for Shell Creek. All are flood control projects.

Oil Interests In Texas Eye Alcohol Plant

Washington — Texas oil interests have reportedly expressed an interest in leasing the government-owned industrial alcohol plant in Omaha.

Nebraska Rep. Robert Harrison of Norfolk was contacted here by Dallas attorney Richard Connolly on the matter, Harrison said.

Harrison said he hopes an agreement between private interests and the Department of Agriculture can be reached so that industry can produce industrial alcohol from grains.

Attempts to reopen the plant under government operation have failed, Harrison noted. He has urged members of the House Agriculture Committee to open the plant, but only "in vain."

Brooks Is Making Out-Of-State Talks

McCook, Neb. (AP) — Democratic candidate Ralph G. Brooks is doing his warming up for the coming campaign for governor on out-of-state audiences.

Brooks, McCook superintendent of schools, spoke in Sheridan, Wyo., Tuesday. He will be in Miles City, Mont., Thursday.

Party sources said he would return to Nebraska next week to plan Nebraska campaign appearances.

Cannon Wondering If Missouri Basin Backlog Of Projects Getting Too Big

Washington (AP)—Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee has questioned whether the Reclamation Bureau is piling up a backlog of projects in the Missouri River Basin beyond the nation's financial ability.

Cannon raised the question at a closed session of a subcommittee as Reclamation Bureau officials were testifying about plans for spending 19 million dollars on studies of projects. The record of hearing, made public this week, disclosed Cannon's views.

Floyd Dominy, associate reclamation commissioner, replied to Cannon that the figure "does not sound so very large when you think in terms of a 2 1/2 billion Missouri River Basin project development that is in contemplation and authorized."

Dominy said he didn't feel the bureau had been extravagant, wasteful or had used bad judgment.

"That may be so," Cannon said. "That really is not the question before us. We are piling up here a great amount of work, the total cost of which would be utterly beyond anything within the range of our ability to construct in any reasonable length of time. The question before us is, are we piling up here with these studies and these investigations, as accurate as they may be, a vast backlog of work that can never be completed?"

Dominy said this question was taken into account in arriving at the budget estimate for basin investigations in the year starting July 1.

"You will note," he told Cannon, "that we have reduced the general investigation items substantially in the Missouri Basin project area."

2 Omaha Firms 'Guilty Of Unfair Labor Practices'

Washington (AP)—A National Labor Relations board examiner has filed a report holding the Nebraska Bag Company and its affiliate, the Nebraska Bag Processing Company, both of Omaha, guilty of unfair labor practices.

The report followed a hearing before Examiner Arthur E. Reyman on a complaint by the Textile Workers' Union, which was seeking to represent production and maintenance workers at the 2 firms.

Reyman recommended the companies pledge themselves not to discourage membership in the union or union activities by means of discriminatory discharge or other discrimination; and that the companies offer 5 workers full reinstatement and make good loss of pay suffered as result of their discharge.

The finding is subject to review by the NLRB.

Italy's Pro-West Party Still On Top

Rome (AP)—Three major results stand out sharply in the Italian election of a new parliament.

1. The pro-West Christian Democrats who have guided Italy during a postwar decade of rebuilding and Atlantic alliance are still the nation's heavyweight political champion. But they still lack seats that would have enabled them to govern without outside help.

2. The challenger, also a bit stronger, still is the Communist-Socialist Left.

3. The Monarchist-Fascist right is nearly knocked out.

State To Ask Five More Air Routes

... In Kansas-Oklahoma Case

By Betty Person

Nebraska's Department of Aeronautics will put in its bid for 5 additional local service airline routes in Nebraska as part of the Kansas-Oklahoma case which is now pending before the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The routes were outlined Wednesday by the State Aeronautics Commission at its regular May meeting in Lincoln.

Three different airlines, Central, Frontier and Ozark, are making requests to CAB for authority to operate in the Kansas-Oklahoma area. Nebraska is a "fringe" area in this case.

No Recommendation

State Aeronautics Director Rolland Harr stressed that the Department has made no recommendation of any of the 3 companies and will not do so until all testimony has been taken by CAB examiners.

He also emphasized that the 5 Nebraska routes proposed in the Kansas-Oklahoma case are separate from those covered by the so-called 7-states case, which promises commuter-type air carrier service to 17 cities in Nebraska.

A CAB examiner will conduct a public hearing at Topeka July 15 at which civic interests will testify on the proposals.

The new routes proposed.

1. From Omaha to Lincoln and then through Beatrice and Topeka to Kansas City.
2. From Omaha to Lincoln to Beatrice to Fairbury and thence to Manhattan, Salina, Hutchinson and Wichita, Kan.
3. From North Platte to McCook to Garden City, Dodge City and Wichita.
4. From Kearney to Hastings to Salina, Hutchinson and Wichita.
5. From Grand Island to Hastings, Manhattan, Salina, Hutchinson and Wichita.

Lincoln Included

So far Centr' has proposed a route from Omaha to Lincoln to Manhattan and Wichita, and another from Omaha to Lincoln, Manhattan, Salina, Hutchinson and Wichita.

Frontier has proposed routes:

From Omaha to Lincoln to Manhattan, Salina, Hutchinson and Wichita.

From Grand Island to Hastings, Manhattan, Topeka and Kansas City.

Betrothal Of Interest

Of particular interest to town circles this morning is the announcement made by Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Carveth of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sara, to Bill James Clay of Grand Rapids, Mich., son of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Clay of Arkansas City, Kan.

The wedding, which will take place in Lincoln, is planned for Saturday, Aug. 23.

Miss Carveth attended the University of Nebraska, where she is a member of Alpha Phi sorority, and was graduated from the University of Michigan School of Dental Hygiene.

Mr. Clay is a graduate of the University of Colorado.

The Star In Suburbia

EASTBOROUGH

The wonderful warm days of blue skies and balmy breezes have really brought the suburbs outdoors and nowhere is patio life more in evidence than out in Eastborough where the wide streets are filled with "little people" on wheels and every evening a blue haze from charcoal grills spirals from each back garden.

Another sure sign that summer is just about here is the steady stream of Eastborough residents filing into the Paul Hartman home to pick up their swim tags for the community pool which opens officially the week end of June 8.

Understand that vacation-bound last week end were Mr. and Mrs. Don J. Schulte who are spending a short holiday on the west coast. They plan to be home again about June 6.

Today is the day that Mr. and Mrs. James M. Winter and their children, Kristine and Jimmy, leave for Hot Springs, S.D., to be gone until September. And arriving the first of the week from Hot Springs for a short visit in the suburb and to accompany her son and daughter-in-law back to Hot Springs was Mrs. D. K. Batchelor.

Also a guest of the Winters' is Mr. Winter's brother, David, who last week graduated from high school in Hot Springs and today will leave Lincoln by plane for Montreal, Canada, from where he will sail for a summer in Edinburgh, Scotland, with relatives.

Learned that the Winters' home on West Rio Rd. will be occupied this summer by Dr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Olson and their three children who will arrive on June 8 from their home in Norman, Okla., where Dr. Olson is chairman of the department of geography at the University of Oklahoma.

Dr. Olson, who will join the faculty of the University of Nebraska for the summer

These Are Busy Times

—these are busy times in Lincoln—There are guests, current and future—and there are, as one might suspect, courtesies for some exceedingly popular brides-elect—

But to the guests—Understand that Mrs. Will Raymond of Kerrville, Tex., formerly of Lincoln, is spending several days as the guest of Mrs. Stanley Zemer—and that since her arrival she has been—and will continue to be—kept busy with numerous informal courtesies.

—and mention of Mrs. Zemer reminds us that she is just back from California where she visited her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Zemer, Jr., in Van Nuys, and spent some time with Mrs. O. W. Everett, a former Lincoln resident, in Belmont.

—then we learned Mr. and Mrs. John P. Miller are to have house guests for the Memorial Day week end—

Club Meets

The Junior Woman's Club of Lincoln held its May meeting on Wednesday when the members next for a 12:45 o'clock luncheon at Hillcrest Country Club.

New officers of the group were installed, and following an invocation by Mrs. Eugene Ingram, a program of music was presented by a group of University of Nebraska students. In charge of program arrangements was Mrs. Neale Copple.

The visitors, who arrive today, are Mrs. Miller's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Jensen; and her sister, Miss Esther Jensen, all of Clinton, Ia.

Coed Is Bride-Elect

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Miles McCullough of Brady, of the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen, to James R. Williams, of Akron, O., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Williams of North Loup.

The wedding is planned for late summer.

Miss McCullough is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a mem-

—on Thursday's calendar is a tea given by Mrs. Don Bergquist and her daughter, Mrs. Tom Larson, at the home of Mrs. Bergquist, in courtesy to Miss Carolyn Carter who, as possibly everyone knows, is to marry Jack Holmquist on June 14.

—another prenuptial courtesy for Miss Carter is the 10:30 o'clock coffee on Saturday morning when Mrs. John Gates Minnick is hostess at her home. Twelve guests have been invited for coffee and a "party" shower for the bride-elect.

—also on Saturday is the desert luncheon for which Mrs. Ralph Beechner and Mrs. Milton Beechner will be hostesses at the home of the former, when they entertain in honor of bride-elect Miss Elizabeth Paine who has chosen Aug. 30 as the date of her marriage to William Hugh Dillon of Superior, Wis.

Included among the 18 guests will be Miss Paine's mother, Mrs. Charles B. Paine; and her aunt, Mrs. Bayard H. Paine, both of Grand Island.

Following the luncheon the honoree will be presented with a miscellaneous shower.

Reunion

The members of the Faulhaber family held their annual reunion on Sunday afternoon at Bethany Park with approximately 100 attending.

The oldest member present, Mrs. Emma Maahs, 90, of Lincoln was presented a gift, and movies were taken by Ralph Retzlaff of Walton, who has organized a film library for the family.

Following the picnic dinner, the group elected new officers: Fred Retzlaff, Lincoln, president; Mrs. Donna Wurst, Milford, secretary; Miss Darlene Faulhaber, Bennet, treasurer; and Mrs. Herman Kayser, Lincoln, historian.

ber of Chi Omega sorority and Newman Club. She also is affiliated with Rho Chi and Kappa Epsilon, pharmacy honoraries.

Mr. Williams also is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and is a member of Eta Kappa Nu and Sigma Tau, engineering honoraries. He now is associated with Goodyear Tire and Rubber, Co., in Akron.

Dear Abby . . .

The Road Back

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You toot the horn for A.A. like you are on their payroll. Let me tell you my experience. My husband was a drunk when I married him but I thought I was going to reform him. I learned that there is no such thing as a reformed drunk. Finally, I took my baby in one hand and my suitcase in the other and closed the door behind me and never looked back. I support myself, but at least I eat regularly. Drunks want more drink, no suggestions.

DEAR OUGHT: A.A. has no payroll and "I toot their horn" because I get thousands of letters from reformed alcoholics who owe their lives to A.A. You should have joined Al-Anon—the club for the families of alcoholics. They teach you how to live with the alcoholic and help keep him on the road back. Believe me, it's well-traveled.

DEAR ABBY: I am an American woman of good moral character. I have been keeping company for three years with a man who speaks nothing but Spanish and who works on a ship. He is a widower, 47, and I am 33 and unmarried. He has put off our marriage many times with the excuse that he wants to see his son (who is almost 30 years old) "straightened out." This son has been in trouble since he was out of diapers and I see no hope for his getting straightened out. What would you say to a man like that?

DEAR LENA: "Adios!"

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter was raised right, but for some strange reason she always chosen very inferior characters to run around with. She is a senior in High School and claims to be in love with a fellow who quit school in his junior year and is now in the Army. We told her she couldn't have anything to do with a boy who didn't have enough pride to graduate from High School. He wrote her and told her he studied in the Army and got his High School diploma. We've never heard of anything so ridiculous and want to prove to her that the boy is a liar. Please print this. It will do her good.

NOT FOOLED

DEAR NOT: Sorry, but it IS possible for a boy in service to make up his High School credits while in the Army and get his diploma.

DEAR ABBY: I married Horace in 1953. It was a church wedding and I wore a white gown and veil. We had a falling out and were divorced in '55. We decided we still loved each other so we are getting married again next month. I want to know if it is all right if I wear the same gown and veil since I am marrying the same man? I am as pure NOW as I was THEN.

DEAR REMARRYING: White gowns and wedding veils are reserved for FIRST marriage only. Wear something else this time.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BROKEN-HEARTED: What did you expect from a married man? Any man who will cheat on his wife and lie to HER, will cheat on his girlfriend and lie to her also. Sorry, look for sympathy under "S" in the dictionary.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Evening Wedding

White blossoms arranged against summer greenery appointed the chancel of the York Methodist Church where the wedding of Miss Marilyn Ann Van Nostrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Van Nostrand of Benedict, and James L. Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie M. Shaw of Lincoln, took place on Wednesday evening May 28. The Rev. Mr. Matthews solemnized the 8 o'clock service.

The alike costumes of the attendants, including Mrs. Jack Richardson of Anchorage, Alaska, the matron of honor; and bridesmaids, Miss Karen Conant of Grand Island and Miss Janet Hare of Lincoln, were of champagne-toned chiffon chemise frocks over sheaths of matching taffeta.

Richard Shaw of Lincoln served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Edward Pearce of La Crescent, Minn., and Jerry Miller of Kansas City, Mo.

The bride appeared in a gown of white taffeta designed in the sheath mode. The long-sleeved bodice was fashioned with a portrait neckline ornamented with a flat bow. The slender skirt was given back interest with a panel of pleats that extended from the waist into a chapel train. A flat bow of taffeta held to the head her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a cascade arrangement of white orchids and stephanotis.

Mr. Shaw and his bride will reside in Lincoln.

The bride is a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University, where she is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, and by the University of Nebraska. Mr. Shaw also is a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University.

The Brides Book

Miss Joan Heusner and Joe Good are planning a Thursday, June 12, wedding to be solemnized at Westminster United Presbyterian Church in Des Moines, Ia.

Attending her sister as maid of honor will be Miss Susan Heusner of Des Moines, Ia., and the bridesmaids will be Miss Marilyn Miner, Tecumseh; Miss Barbara Erickson, Broken Bow, and Miss Sherry Reimers, Grand Island. Lighting the candles for the 8:00 o'clock ceremony will be Miss JoAnne Devereaux, Sioux Falls, S.D., and Miss Jan Bridgman of Des Moines, and the flower girls will be Miss Pamela Good and Miss Cindy Good.

Serving Mr. Good as best man will be his brother, Larry Good, and included among the corps of ushers will be Bob Good, Miss Heusner's brother, Arthur Heusner of Des Moines, Ia.; and Bill Connors of Madison, Wis.

In pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Heusner, Mrs. Roger Gohde was a hostess at brunch on Saturday morning, May 24. A pottery shower was presented to the bride-to-be by the 20 Kappa Alpha Theta sorority sisters of the honoree who attended.

On Saturday evening, May 24, Mrs. Harry C. Good honored Miss Heusner and her son at a dinner at her home. Eight couples were invited for the informal evening.

The wedding of Miss Mary Carol Huston of Grand Island and Robert L. Schuyler, whose betrothal was announced recently, will be an event of Friday, June 13. The bride-to-be, a coed at the University of Nebraska, and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, has revealed plans for the ceremony, which will be solemnized at the First Presbyterian Church in Grand Island.

The maid of honor will be Miss Mary Catharine Vandegrift of Grand Island, and bridesmaids will be Miss Sarah Smaha and Miss Sherry Reimers, Grand Island, and Miss Sue Hardie, Lincoln.

Merle Schuyler will serve his brother as best man, and the corps of ushers will include Duane Swanson, North Platte; Jim Baird, Kansas City, Kan.; Gary Ruck, Mission, Kan.; Don Fitzgerald, Altadena, Calif.; Bob Kirkendall, Grand Island; Bob Price, Don Kirkwood and Gil O'Rourke, Omaha.

In courtesy to Miss Huston, Mrs. Robert Wagner was a hostess recently when she entertained a group of college classmates of the bride-elect at a dessert luncheon at the Compass Room. The honoree was presented a linen shower.

Speaking of busy brides-elect we would say that Miss Linda Beal of Omaha, a Pi Beta Phi at the University of Nebraska, is one of the busiest.

Between now and June 28, the date of her marriage to James Patrick Mellin of St. Paul, Minn., Miss Beal will be doing quite a bit of traveling. On Wednesday, May 28, the bride-to-be left for West Point, N.Y. to attend Cadet Mellin's graduation from the United States Military Academy, and to be present for the June Week festivities.

Then Miss Beal will accompany her fiancé to St. Paul where she will be the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford O. Mellin, and during her visit will be the honoree at numerous pre-nuptial courtesies.

Among the Lincoln parties given for Miss Beal before her departure was a luncheon and miscellaneous shower held at the Hotel Cornhusker on Sunday, May 18.

Guests present at the affair included sorority sisters of the bride-to-be.

Courtesy For Bride-To-Be

Miss Judy Knox, whose marriage to Hans Sykora will be solemnized on June 8, was honored on Tuesday evening when Mrs. Carroll Katelhut was hostess at her home near Walton.

Thirty-five guests were invited for an informal evening and the soon-to-be bride was presented with a miscellaneous shower.

Pat Ketelhut, Lorie Stahl, Miss Knox, Beverly Tychsen, Sharon Mook and Linda Payne.

The very young lady who seems to be enjoying the bridal courtesy is Nancy Osenhop (standing).

New Presbyterian Church Founded

Nature Provides
Baptism Of Rain

Pittsburgh (AP)—Nature provided a baptism of rain at the founding of a new Presbyterian church.

Then, as its first act of worship, the United Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A. celebrated the Lord's Supper.

The new denomination was formed by the merger of 2 long separated branches of Presbyterianism.

A heavy downpour soaked the 1,200 robed church representatives as they converged in twin processions at a street intersection.

They stood there a few minutes in the rain, their leaders shaking hands and pledging their new alliance of faith.

Historic

Then, spontaneously, they broke into the spirit-raising doxology, "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow." Water trickled down their faces.

The historic merger joins the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and the United Presbyterian Church, which broke apart in a time-obscured dispute more than 2 centuries ago in Scotland.

Now united, they constitute a denomination of 3 million members and nearly 10,000 congregations across the nation. Among American protestants, only Baptist and Methodist bodies are larger.

In its first business session the new church elected the Rev. Dr. Theophilus M. Taylor, a leading theologian of the U.P. Church and one-time missionary and pastor, as its first moderator.

Nominated in a series of laudatory speeches, he was chosen by acclamation and given a standing ovation.

Professor

The 48-year-old Dr. Taylor has been a professor of the New Testament at Pittsburgh Xenia Theological Seminary for 15 years.

Of the rain-drenched street formalities, the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, of Philadelphia, administrator of the U.S.A. Church, commented smilingly:

"It emphasizes that we don't immerse, but sprinkle—and hard."

After the meeting in the rain, the bareheaded, dripping marchers moved side-by-side into Pittsburgh's big Syria Mosque Auditorium often used for symphony concerts and other entertainment.

"Let us worship God," intoned the Rev. Dr. Harold R. Martin, of Bloomington, Ill., moderator of the U.S.A. Church, in the traditional opening of a Presbyterian service.

'HEALTHY CYCLONE' INSPIRES KUHNER TO BUILD SHELTER

A large underground "disaster shelter" is being dug in the backyard of property belonging to Chris Kuhner of 4603 St. Paul.

Chief reason for the shelter: "We could have a healthy cyclone here someday," Kuhner explains.

Cost: probably something close to $1,400.

Time to complete: uncertain. Kuhner explains that he is doing most of the work himself with aid from one other person.

The shelter will be reinforced concrete 16 inches thick. It will be 14 feet by 14 feet by 22 feet and will have room for 25 people.

Complete With Plumbing
The shelter will have seats, plumbing and shelves.

It will have a deep well. It will be available as a safeguard for people in his neighborhood, Kuhner explained.

Dangers of enemy attack have nothing to do with the shelter, he explained. "I'm not afraid of bombs, but we do have a lot of storms."

"Those road signs (evacuation route signs) and colored charts are just a big waste of money," Kuhner explained, referring to civil defense devices.

The shelter will be open to visitors when it is completed, the former county commissioner and present candidate for the Legislature said.

Arch Hale, national service officer for the Disabled American Veterans, Tuesday was temporarily assigned as service officer for the DAV office in Lincoln.

Hale assumes the duties formerly held by Milton K. Williams pending Williams' return to the DAV office at the Veterans Building. Williams has been ill for several months.

There are some 15,000 handicapped veterans in Nebraska eligible for DAV assistance, Hale said.

A rainy Sunday in Hong Kong. There are gray clouds hanging over the Peak and planes are droning overhead, awaiting a break in the damp ceiling.

If the clouds do not break, they go up to Formosa. Refuel and try again. Hong Kong landings must be made at daylight or you might push your plane nose into the jagged Nine Dragon Hills that lie on the edge of China.

At Sunning House dining room, the radio re-diffusion is playing for breakfast. A quavering soprano singing one of those trilling things you hear in gloomy British resort hotels.

The Chinese having breakfast across the room is a millionaire merchant. He started with vegetables in the market place and parlayed it into a chain of hawkers.

He pays for breakfast in cash. The reason? He cannot read or write. If the waiter knew that he could not sign his name, he would lose face.

She is a Chinese dance hall girl. Her correspondence list covers nearly every ship in the combined British and American Asiatic fleets.

Exchanging letters is a kind of direct mail advertising. "Please send me another picture of yourself," she says in each letter.

She cannot read English. It costs $5 Hong Kong to get a professional letter translator. Sometimes she does not have enough money. If they enclose a picture, at least she knows who it is from.

He is a Chinese broker and millionaire. A couple of years ago, he took us to an expensive dinner. A week later he wired us in Tokyo: "Could you please pay for me temporarily in dollars such-and-such commercial bill and oblige. Your friend."

My friend paid the bill, $500 U.S. It took over two years to get it back. The millionaire stalled and refused to answer letters. He is known as Kong. And collectors are told indignantly: "Don't you know I am a millionaire? Get out of here!"

He got into me for a small piece of change, too.

He is an American who makes a business of selling old clothing in the Orient. Cast-off American suits.

"You would think we sell these to poor people? Not at all. Our best customers are millionaires. In Hong Kong, Singapore, Bangkok, all over the Orient."

"A Chinese businessman prefers to appear less well-to-do. If his customers see him dressing well, they feel that his prices have been jacked up to fit his wardrobe. Then, too, a man who looks a little poor is not as likely to be kidnaped."

He is a Chinese of great wealth. "If the Communists ever take Hong Kong, my family will be first to be liquidated." His yacht is ready at all times to go to sea.

Among his possessions is a fleet of great junks running over to Portuguese Macao. The major smugglers' entrance to Red China.

One day we stood on the Macao wharf watching them unload cases. "They will be in Red China tonight," he said. "What is in the boxes?" I asked. "Bicycle parts," he said giggling. He made a circular motion with his hand as if holding a machinegun. He imitated the sound like a small boy. "Heh-heh-heh-heh! Bicycle parts!"

In the hot tenement districts, the refugees weave straw baskets and matting. Rejects from the Nationalist armies. Not wanted on Formosa. A blind ex-captain tends the baby and the mother hauls pole loads of bricks on a construction job.

Southeast Captures State Diamond Title

Rockets Fall In 13th 4-2

By Bob McCoy

Owen Becker's solid single to center in the top of the 13th cracked a 2-2 tie and gave Lincoln Southeast the 1958 Class A state baseball championship with a 4-2 victory over Lincoln Northeast at the University of Nebraska diamond Wednesday.

Becker's single spoiled a stout pitching performance by Northeast's Jan Wall and gave Southeast its first state title in any sport.

Wall went the route for the Rockets in the 13-inning struggle—longest game ever in state tournament history—and limited the Knights to just seven scattered hits.

The lanky Rocket star also belted out a 360-foot homer for one of the Northeast runs, but his teammates were unable to produce any kind of an offense for him.

Bill Redmond, the winner, and Keith Sieck shared mound duties for the Knights and gave up just three hits including Wall's homer.

Jim Frank led off the Southeast 13th with a single for his first hit of the season and moved up to second on a stolen base, one of 9 Knight thefts during the game. After Dennis Puelz fanned, Wayne Kubert tapped weekly to the mound and Wall elected to go to third to get Frank, but Jim Munford dropped his throw and all hands were safe.

Then Becker, after bunting foul on a squeeze play attempt, lined a single to center to plate Frank and Kubert rambled all the way home when Rocket centerfielder Rich Hill bobbled the ball.

Southeast had rallied twice to tie the game, but never led until the final inning.

Northeast got its initial run in the first when Rich Luft walked and scored all the way from first when Redmond threw wild into centerfield on Hill's attempted sacrifice. Wall's homer in the third plated the other run.

Redmond figured in the first two Southeast tallies, scoring on Dave Myers' sacrifice fly in the second and driving in Kubert with a single in the sixth.

Doane Coach Rejects Bid

... From California

Crete, Neb. — Elvin (Al) Papik has rejected an offer to join the coaching staff of Chico State College, Chico, Calif., and will remain at the helm of the Doane College football and track teams for the coming year, he said Wednesday.

Papik, who is now completing his third year as athletic director and head football and track coach at the Tiger institution, had been considering the Chico offer which would have made him line coach and assistant track coach at the California school.

Chico is a state-supported college of about 3,000 enrollment with a physical education staff of 15 or 16 persons. The freshman basketball coach at Chico is Dr. Don Scott, who was head basketball coach at Crete High School when Papik was tutoring the Cardinal football and track squads.

Papik is a 1950 graduate of Doane where he was an all-conference guard under Jim Dutcher.

Shotputters, Discus Tossers Made Lists

(Fourth in a series reviewing the 1958 Nebraska high school track season and the all-time prep honor roll. Today—The weights.)

By Al Beebe

Weightmen in 1958 may not have come up to the standards set in 1957 by such as Larry Fisher of Beatrice and Curtis Rutt of Hastings, but a total of 7 shot putters gained the all-time honor roll and 6 made the list in the discus.

The only double was by Larry Reiners of Little McCook

HOUSER . . . now 6th.

Red Willow. His 157-8 discus throw places him 10th in the honor roll. And his 53-3/4 shot put ranks him 9th.

Shot putters gained the highest places in the honor roll, with the 54-2 by Ken Hinrichs of Hastings in the Grand Island Relays ranking him 5th. His late-season throw topped the previous season best of 54-0 Don Houser of Pius X, 6th in the all-time list.

Other shot putters making the list and Stu Vulek, Wahoo, 14th on a 52-9 1/2 toss; Larry Shepperd, Springview, 16th at 52-7; Larry Snyder, Lincoln High, 17th at 52-6 1/2; and Pat Thomas of Falls City, tied for 24th with 51-7 1/2.

Boys Town's Bob Mitchell came up with by far his best throw in the Grand Island meet to take the state lead and 7th in the honor roll. His effort was 159-0, displacing Reiners at the head of the season discus list.

Monte Kiffen's 156-10 1/2 discus throw for Lexington ranks him in a tie for 12th in the all-time list. The 154-5 Gold Medal throw by Omaha Central's Morris Meadows is good enough for 17th, while Gordon Lacy of Scottsbluff gained No. 21 with his 154-0 mark.

Talos-Missile Cruiser Galveston Commissioned

Philadelphia (AP)—The missile cruiser Galveston, christened 13 years ago and then moth-balled, was commissioned by the Navy.

Its chief armament is the awesome Talos missile. It is the first American warship to be armed with this powerful weapon capable of destroying enemy planes and vessels more than 65 miles away.

The Galveston captain, John Barr Colwell, Pawnee City, Neb., formally assumed charge of the ship and its 1,275 officers and men. He described the Talos as the "best missile in any arsenal in the world."

The Talos, like the Galveston, was 13 years in the making.

Mrs. Clark W. Thompson, wife of the Democratic congressman from Galveston, Tex., was sponsor at the Philadelphia Naval Base commissioning.

She had christened the vessel in 1945, when it slid down the ways into the Delaware River at another Philadelphia shipyard.

Her husband, substituting as the main speaker for Texan Sam Rayburn, speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives, said the Galveston was proof the Navy is not being turned into a ferry command, and that America "now and for the foreseeable future must be a maritime nation."

Thompson labeled as "bunk" talk that modern weapons and so-called push-button wars would eliminate the Navy.

"The great bulk of that portion of our production which seeks a market overseas must go by surface craft," he asserted.

"Without a Navy to defend our freedom of the seas we shall sooner or later be challenged by force," he said.

The Galveston, a 14,000 ton, 610-foot light cruiser, actually is the Navy's third missile ship. The other two, both heavy cruisers, are the Boston and the Canberra. They are armed with the less potent "Terrier" missile which has a striking range of 10 miles.

Unknowns Die In State

... Heroes Await Burial On Memorial Day

By Douglas B. Cornell
Washington (AP) — The honored unknowns of World War II and Korea returned at last Wednesday to the sun-warmed soil of their homeland.

Side-by-side, now, they lie in state beneath the towering Capitol dome, accepting the reverent accolade of their countrymen.

With formal military rites, flag-shrouded caskets of the unknown warriors were carried ashore from the destroyer Blandy. They have come back home, for the first time since they sacrificed lives and names for the freedom of fellow men.

Twin black hearses with maroon velvet curtains took them to the Capitol Plaza. Again with military honors, the nameless heroes were borne up the Capitol steps and gently lowered into catafalques in the center of the vast rotunda.

There they will repose, as have Presidents and heroes before them, until they set out Friday for Memorial Day burial services in Arlington National Cemetery beside the tomb of the unknown soldier of World War I.

Vice President Nixon, Speaker Rayburn, other high dignitaries of government and ambassadors of many lands paid them ceremonial tribute with their presence and with laurel wreath garlands.

And all through the day, hushed, humbled people filed silently by the biers, though in surprisingly small numbers.

Some sobbed without shame. For them, perhaps, these nameless ones might have been sons, brothers or husbands who marched away to war and unmarked graves.

Omahan Heads Plainsman Staff

Barbara Bernard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron E. Bernard of Omaha, has been named editor of the Wesleyan University yearbook, The Plainsman, for the coming year.

Jim Jorgenson, son of Mrs. O. L. Jorgenson of Lincoln, was named business manager.

Miss Bernard, who succeeds Darrel Seng of Lincoln, was assistant editor for the 1957-58 yearbook, and is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. She has been active in Plainsman Players, WAA, and YWCA.

Jorgenson, who was on the Plainsman staff this year, is a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity and has been active in debate, YMCA, and a member of the student handbook staff.

Evaluate Methodist Education Plan

Omaha (AP) — A 4-year program of Methodist education is being evaluated at the 6-state annual conference of the Central Jurisdiction of the church here.

The program, started in 1956, concerns the "ties which bind the church with its institutions—Methodist colleges, seminaries and secondary schools," the Rev. M. D. Pembroke, conference spokesman, said.

"We are a connectional church," he added. "We don't consider ourselves as Negroes and whites—just the Methodist Church."

Bishop M. W. Clair Jr., resident bishop of this jurisdiction, is presiding at this conference. It is being held at Clair Methodist Church, which was named for his father, a former bishop of the same jurisdiction.

Cozad Mentally Retarded School Site Inspected

Facilities offered by Cozad as the site for a state mentally retarded school were inspected Wednesday by the Board of Control, but Board Member Harold Peterson said

"consideration must be given to many things before a decision can be made on a site selection."

Peterson described the brick Methodist Church building and the parsonage offered by Cozad as being in "very nice shape," and added that citizens of Cozad are "very receptive" to the idea of having the school located there.

Cozad was named last week as first choice for the school's location by the advisory committee named to assist the Board in choosing a site for the school.

The 3-member Board visited Cozad Wednesday at the end of a routine visit to state institutions at Grand Island, Hastings and Kearney.

Peterson said they decided to visit the Cozad facilities before meeting with the advisory committee June 4 "because we were within 40 miles of Cozad and it was felt it would save time to go there now."

Some of the factors the Board will discuss with the committee before reaching its decision, Peterson said, are the number of students estimated for the school and how many of these would be resident students.

50 Eligible

There are reports of 50 children eligible for the school within a 45-mile radius of Cozad.

Peterson said the parsonage would facilitate 8 to 10 resident students, but that if there were more than that, dormitory arrangements probably would have to be provided in the church building.

He described the church building as 50 feet by 60 feet of brick exterior and frame interior with "several rooms" in the basement.

The parsonage has 4 bedrooms and bath on the 2nd floor and living room, dining room and kitchen on the 1st floor.

Other cities recommended by the advisory committee for consideration by the Board were Sidney and Alliance which were tied for second choice.

Veteran Files

Houston, Tex. (AP) — Walter W. Williams, 115, filed an application for a Confederate pension from the federal government.

Williams, the oldest of only 2 living veterans of the Civil War, signed the application with a wobbly "X" at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Willie Mae Bowles.

Ohio Co. Reports Another Producer

Sidney, Neb. (P)—Things are looking up for the Ohio Oil Co. with the announcement that they are completing another producer in the Lane field, in Morrill County.

Ohio was running 7-inch production casing at the No. 1 Cape in the Lane Field, after recovering 2,450 feet of oil in a "J" sand drill stem test. This is an offset to the No. 2 Lane, which Ohio said also delivered "good recovery."

In the Johnson field, Ohio has just completed the Johnson No. 12, which will be used as an injection hole for the purpose of flooding the reservoir with propane to increase recovery rate.

The plan is an experiment, and if successful will probably be tried in other parts of the Denver-Julesburg Basin.

Called the Miscible Phase Displacement Flood, the plan calls for the injection of 50,000-barrels of propane, to flush out the remaining oil.

Ohio said a June 1 target date has been set for the injection of the propane, and they knew of no reason to deviate from this date.

Production held fairly steady in Nebraska over the past week with 52,402 barrels per day average. The week before the production was reported at 52,722, thus showing a drop of 320 barrels per day.

Production was down during the early months of spring, but has shown considerable improvement since the first of May, thus reflecting the heavy demand created by farm work and increased highway travel.

Nebraska News

Peterson Will Judge 8 Dairy Shows In State During August

Reuben Peterson, manager of the Nebraska Dairy Breeders Assn., Fremont, will judge 8 district dairy shows scheduled in Nebraska during August, it was announced here.

Peterson is a graduate of South Dakota State College and has been closely connected with the dairy industry for many years.

The shows are sponsored by the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, the Cooper Foundation, the Nebraska State Dairyman's Assn, the Nebraska Dairy Industries, the Nebraska Butter Institute, the Nebraska Agricultural Extension Service, and, on a local basis, by junior and senior chambers of commerce.

Dates and places of the shows: August 4—Blair; August 6—Norfolk; August 7—South Sioux City; August 12—McCook; August 13—Mitchell; August 15—Grand Island; August 18—Seward; and August 20—Beatrice.

The district dairy shows were started 12 years ago, when 346 dairy animals were exhibited. Popularity of the shows has grown steadily through the years, with 1,183 animals shown in 1957, including 605 purebred and 578 grade individuals. In addition, 80 junior herds were shown last year.

'Producers Must Convince Buyer He Desires Beef'

Valentine, Neb. (P)—Sandhills Cattle Assn. members were told they must convince the consumer that he wants beef.

The advice came from Al Darlow, vice president of Oklahoma State University, and Everett Peterson, University of Nebraska economist.

Both pointed to the competition of the beef raiser faces from broiler production.

Peterson said integration of the poultry industry has resulted in greater production with a decrease in price to the consumer and that integration of the pork industry will bring a like pickup in beef competition.

Dr. Carl F. Kraenzel, Montana State College, suggested an alliance between the beef raiser and the wheat farmer.

The association elected James A. Monahan, Hyannis, president; Robert H. Clifford, Atkinson, vice president, and Redmond Sears, Merriman, treasurer.

Further Hearings Due On Rail Abandonment

Washington (P)—The Interstate Commerce Commission will hold further hearings, to be announced later, on a North Western proposal to abandon about 114 miles of trackage between Scribner and Oakdale, Neb.

ATTORNEY GENERAL OUTLINES DUTIES OF INSURANCE AGENTS

Other than proctoring the execution of loan papers, an insurance agent has not authority to perform any of the duties of banking, the attorney general has ruled.

The opinion, requested by J. F. McLain, state banking director, said an insurance agent and a bank may agree that an insurance agent may take applications for loans on behalf of the bank, may forward the application to the bank for approval of the loan, upon receipt of the approval, may complete loan papers, disburse funds by check or draft on the bank, and may mail loan papers to the bank, note being made payable to the bank.

Loans are not solicited in the bank's name, nor may the agent accept payments on behalf of the bank, the opinion concluded.

Clarence S. Beck, attorney general, and John E. Weststrand, assistant attorney general, signed the opinion.

Bryan Church Educational Unit Discussed

Plans to begin use of their newly-acquired education unit quarters at 60th and South by June 9 were discussed by the Bryan Memorial Methodist Church congregation at their 4th quarterly conference.

Church members also reviewed plans to put the building, formerly a cheese factory, into full use by late fall. Bible school classes will start there in June.

The church recently acquired the property after a $24,000 fund raising drive, and plan to build a new church building at the 60th and South site.

Officers elected at the Tuesday conference are:

Clyde Peach, church lay leader.
Arthur Pine, treasurer.
Mrs. Marguerite Werner, recording steward.

Mrs. M. H. Hitchcock, lay member representative to annual conference.
Elected to the board of trustees are: Raymond Kozitz, Clyde Peach, E. L. McGee, W. A. Gilbert, Joe Uribe, Fred Albert, George Vorhees, Lester Frolich.

A tentative budget of $7,608 was adopted for the 1958-59 year, and church membership was reported at 185.

Dr. Harold Sandall, Lincoln district superintendent for Methodist churches, presided. The church pastor is the Rev. Richard H. Lingard.

WEATHER AHEAD

Nebraska temperatures for the next 5 days will average 3 to 6 degrees above normal with only minor day to day changes. Normal highs range from 75 to 79; normal lows from 48 to 54. Precipitation is expected to average near 1/2 inch, occurring as afternoon and night thunderstorms throughout the period.

Wilbert

"Wilbert, what have you been doing with the vitamins I've been giving you?"

Which is the toughest play to make?

The pivot on a double play, or a put-out on a drag bunt? Both are tricky to handle . . . both take skill and experience. But it's a simple matter to pick the best bourbon whiskey of all.

House Unit OKs Boost In Military Spending Plan

Washington (UPI) — The House Appropriations Committee voted to boost President Eisenhower's military spending budget to $38,310,560,000 to provide extra funds for rockets and atomic-powered submarines.

While the committee ordered some cuts in the President's defense program, it voted an overall increase of $113,614,000 in his already stepped-up military spending plans for the fiscal year starting July 1. It said the world situation justified the increase.

The committee voted a $638,043,000 hike for the Navy to build 4 more nuclear-powered submarines to fire the Polaris 1,500-mile ballistic missile, making a new total of 7.

It also approved an additional 138 million dollars for work on the "Hound Dog," a supersonic missile to be fired from B52 bombers at ground targets, and for the Minuteman system, an Air Force project to develop a 5,000-mile solid fuel missile.

To Forestall Cut

The committee voted an extra $81,918,000 to maintain the Army National Guard and reserves at their present strengths, and $45,200,000 to forestall a 25,000-man cut in the Marine Corps.

The committee rejected the President's request for authority to transfer up to 2 billion dollars in funds from one defense program to another. This was a key part of the President's January budget message.

Ex-Inmate's Brief Claims Release Late

John Paul Menard, former Nebraska State Reformatory inmate, should have been released from custody before March 18, according to a brief filed by his attorneys with the State Supreme Court.

The brief said Menard, sentenced upon conviction of robbery to 3 years in the reformatory, would have completed his sentence April 3, 1959.

However, under certain interpretations of statutory good time laws, he should have been discharged sometime before March 18, when hearing was held in Lancaster District Court which determined he was entitled to immediate release, the brief said.

Menard was released from the Men's Reformatory March 25 in accordance with an order from Lancaster District Judge Harry Spencer.

Former Reformatory Superintendent Robert E. Nichols filed motion for new trial, which was overruled, and then appealed to the state Supreme Court, the brief continued.

Any computation of so called good time laws, the brief said, establishes that Menard should have been discharged on one of the following dates: Nov. 28, 1957; Feb. 1, 1958; Feb. 14, 1958; or March 3, 1958.

BASE SCHOOL BID LETTING SET THURSDAY

Lincoln School Board members decided to go ahead with plans for letting bids for the new Gen. Arnold elementary school at the Lincoln Air Force Base on Thursday, despite final formal arrangements still pending on lease of the 9.2-acre school site.

At their regular meeting Tuesday the board approved a 25-year renewable lease contract for the federal land but final signatures of federal authorities are still pending, although the matter is assumed to be routine.

Bid-letting will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Public Schools Administration Bldg., with an estimated completion date of fall, 1959.

Paper Reports 2 Dionne Quints Expecting Babies

Toronto (AP) — The Telegram said Wednesday 2 of the Dionne quintuplets are expecting babies soon.

The paper in a dispatch from Montreal said both Cecile and Annette are expecting their first babies—Cecile's in late summer and Annette's in September.

The telegram says both Annette and Cecile have been told by their doctors that they have no reason to expect multiple births.

The story quotes Annette's husband, Germain Allard, as saying in Montreal: "Annette is getting along very well. She is happy and not tired at all. Cecile is well, too. Her doctor is quite satisfied, like Annette's."

Cecile married Philippe Langlois, a Montreal TV technician, in Callander, Ont., last November. Annette and her husband were married the month before in Montreal.

School Boundary Ruling Appealed

An appeal from a Logan County District Court decision dismissing a petition for school district boundary changes has been filed with the State Supreme Court.

Earlier, the petition was dismissed by the Logan County District court because of an alleged lack of qualified petition signatures, the transcript said.

Specifically, the petition sought a change of boundaries of School District 89 of Custer County so as to include within it all the territory now comprising School District 4 of Logan County, the transcript said.

The appeal was filed in behalf of J. Ivan Halstead, a resident of School District 4 in Logan County.

Defendant in the case was Steve Rosmiarek, also a resident of School District 4 in Logan County, the transcript said.

The administration had said this power was needed to permit more flexibility in handling military money. But it ran into strong opposition in Congress which is jealous of its power over the government's purse strings.

The committee said ample flexibility could be obtained without the requested authority.

The committee bill would provide $17,317,775,000 for the Air Force; $11,042,210,000 for the Navy; and $8,617,626,000 for the Army. It also carried $796,900,000 for certain inter-service activities and $536,050,000 for the Office of the Defense Secretary.
